Proceedings: (IN CHAMBERS) Order Re: Dismissal

Having reviewed the complaint filed in this action, the Court DISMISSES the case for lack of jurisdiction.

Plaintiffs allege diversity jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, which gives district courts original jurisdiction over any civil action in which the parties are citizens of different states, and the action involves an amount in controversy that exceeds $75,000. Plaintiffs also allege that they are “members and investors” of the two limited liability companies (“LLCs”) that are named as defendants. An LLC “is a citizen of every state of which its owners/members are citizens.” Johnson v. Columbia Props. Anchorage, LP, 437 F.3d 894, 899 (9th Cir. 2006). Plaintiffs and Defendants are therefore citizens of the same states. As such, there is no complete diversity, so the Court lacks jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
